

A "Little Grace" Moment

Our UPS driver bounded out of his brown truck today. Music was blaring and he had a spring in his step and a smile on his face. I commented that it seemed like a tropical heat wave (at 35 degrees) and that he was really rockin' out today. He said, "Music puts wings on the human spirit," attributing it to Frank Sinatra.

Thank you, Mr. UPS Driver, for your music and smile, and today's little grace.

Sam
